

ZORA EVANS

FILM INTERN

WHO AM I?

As a writer and creator, I fuse psychology with storytelling for genuine characters. I advocate for equality and environmental causes through my work, expressing empathy, intelligence, and passion in my writing. I expand my influence by researching diverse writers. Driven by my love for film, I aim to become a professional filmmaker. I focus on inclusivity and accurate representation of society in filmmaking. My dedication to storytelling pushes me to pursue my dream of becoming a filmmaker.

EXPERIENCE

Women Writers of Film and Television (WWFTV)

Research Intern & Conference Presenter

Studied significant films and TV shows written by women, gathering data and writer biographies. Explored women writers of color, global contributors, and those whose influential work might not be widely acknowledged by film and TV enthusiasts or analysts.

Tyler Studios

Intern & Assistant to Producer

Worked on several reality-based projects where I obtained experience as casting director and assistant to producer. Created pitch decks, sponsorship packages, & communicated directly with talent. Worked from concept building and pre-production to on-set production.

Stephen Burris Film Production – The Changeable

Indie Set Production Assistant

Prepared craft table, retrieved catering from restaurant, shuttled individuals on and off set, drove to stores and retrieved necessary supplies, aided production in numerous ways on set when needed to ensure smooth shooting days.
